

Income Protection

Occupations not eligible for a benefit payment period up to five years and up to age 65

Your benefit payment period is the maximum length of time that payments can be made if you're unable to work due to illness or injury.

If you receive basic Income Protection when you join or apply for it later, it'll be based on a benefit payment period up to two years. This means if you're unable to work due to illness or injury you may be paid a benefit for a maximum of two years. (If your employer provides basic Income Protection the benefit payment period is arranged by your employer.)

Depending on the work you do, you can apply to change your benefit payment period to up to five years or up to age 65. A longer benefit payment period will cost more. Not all occupations are eliglible for a benefit payment period up to five years or up to age 65. Your eligibility will be based on the occupation details you provide on your application, whether your occupation is listed below and other criteria.

There may be other occupations not listed that are also ineligible. If you're not eligible, you'll remain on a benefit payment period up to two years or as arranged by your employer.

If you need help or more information about Income Protection and benefit payment periods, see the Insurance in your super guide at australiansuper.com/InsuranceGuide
